The planet Pluto represents the deeps, the bottom of the well, the unexplored depths of darkness. Pluto in the year 2008 will enter in Capricorn, and its passage will last until 2024. It's interesting to note that this planetary combination shows the depths with Pluto, and the heights with Capricorn, the sign of the "Mountain Goat". It is a vertical movement, either from above to below, or, the other way around. Vertical is a very spiritual direction, if it points upward! The inferior opens up to the Superior

. Both deal with the right use of power, and the right use of the will. The enormous potential of this combination can have a regenerative effect on the masses.

The process will be slow in motion, Pluto is a slow-moving planet, and because Capricorn is a cautious, patient, target-oriented sign, we can figure out the reformer and structural impact.

Both are working in alliance, to ameliorate the social scene.

Capricorn rules political leaders, the government, and people in positions of social power.

Pluto's power is polarized. It is extreme, tending either to the harmonious or to the disharmonious. This will make politics more black and white but whichever political wing gains power, the masses will exercise more active participation. Distorted Plutonian power, has to do with money, sex, abuse, etc. Pluto is raw power wherever it is used for selfish ends it will have a boomerang effect upon selfish individuals, or nations. Pluto in Capricorn can break crystallized old concepts, structures, and outlived forms of government. It rules the homoeopathic principle in medicine, and will bring purifying change to whatever needs to be cleared up. The generation of children born under this configuration can well be called: "The Reformers".

We are entering into the period of 2500 years of the Aquarian Age, this will introduce a general growth of consciousness. This combination of Capricorn with Pluto can challenge the status-quo of those who hold unequal power. Ultimately, we are referring to power unequal to their Soul's development. So, for the individual, so for a nation.
